Advisor: _____

Date: _____

Directions: PhD students may transfer a maximum of 8 courses into the PhD program. Every transferred course should be consistent with the goals of the Brown PhD requirements to ensure breadth, depth and quality. In general, transfer requests can be made for rigorous courses in computer science or related disciplines. A detailed syllabus of the course, information about assignments, readings etc., may be requested.

Fill in the boxes below for as many courses as you would like to transfer.

Step 1: Instructor Approval

- If you want to use a course to satisfy an area requirement, identify the equivalent course at Brown and get the approval of the professor who teaches that course.

Step 2: DGS and Instructor Approval

- To transfer a course which doesn't have a Brown equivalent, please get an appropriate professor to sign below that the course is rigorous enough to substitute for a Brown course if we had a similar offering, and then get the DGS to approve its use.
